INFORMATION FOR CONTRIBUTORS

AIMS AND SCOPE

Library Acquisitions: Practice and Theory provides a forum for the exchange of ideas and experiences among members of the library acquisitions, collection management, and bookselling communities throughout the world. It is a comprehensive publication designed to bring together many of the specializations within the broad areas of library acquisitions and collection management, including, but by no means limited to, books and serials in academic, public, school, and special libraries; government publications; gifts and exchanges; microforms and other nonprint media, such as videodiscs and computer software; and pertinent library automation projects. In reflecting the broad practical and theoretical foundations of the discipline, LAPT presents on-the-job experiences of librarians and booksellers as well as reports of empirical research and theoretical papers.

EDITORIAL POLICY

The editors will be pleased to receive contributions from all parts of the world. Criteria for acceptance will be appropriateness to the field of the journal as described in the AIMS and SCOPES, taking into account the merit of content and presentation. Only papers not previously published will be accepted, and authors must agree not to publish elsewhere a paper submitted to, and accepted by, the journal. One set of galley proofs will be sent to authors for correcting any omissions or errors, after comparing with the original manuscript. Substantial alterations are not permitted. Twenty-five reprints of each paper will be provided to the first-named author free of charge. Additional reprints may be ordered directly from Pergamon Press.

The Book Review Editor assigns and solicits book reviews. Book reviews will constitute critical appraisals of important publications.

Letters to the Editor should not exceed 400 words in length and may be: (a) comments or criticisms of articles recently published in the journal; (b) preliminary announcements of original work of importance warranting immediate publication.

Manuscripts for publication should be sent to the Editor-in-Chief: Carol Pitts Hawks, Head, Acquisition Department, Ohio State University Libraries, 2129 Sandston Road, Columbus, OH 43220.

MANUSCRIPT REQUIREMENTS

1. Submission: Submit the original typed copy, plus two other copies of the manuscript, typed DOUBLE-SPACED throughout, including tables, legends, and citations, on one side only of white bond paper 8½″ by 11″ in size. Margins should be 1½″ all around. Pages should be numbered, including title page. Begin each major section on a new sheet.

2. Computer disks: In order to speed publication and ensure accuracy, authors are requested to submit a computer disk containing the final version of their paper along with the final manuscript to the editorial office. Please do the following: (1) Use WordPerfect 5.1 software on either 3½″ or 5¼″ disk; (2) Specify what computer was used; (3) Include both original file and ASCII file on the disk; (4) Use single-spacing. All textual elements should begin flush left; (5) Keep a backup disk for reference and safety.

3. Style: For general style (grammar, capitalization, etc.) see The Chicago Manual of Style, 13th ed. (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1982). For spelling and hyphenation, see Webster's Third New International Dictionary or the New Collegiate Dictionary.

4. Title page: Manuscripts should begin with the title of the article, the author's name, and the complete address from which the communication comes. In the case of coauthors, respective addresses should be clearly indicated, as well as which author is to receive correspondence and proofs for corrections. The title should be concise and complete for easy indexing by abstracting services, and for later use with other bibliographic elements in automatic indexing.

5. Abstract: All papers must be supplied with an abstract on a separate page, preferably page 2, that will also be used in developing automatic indexing capability. The abstract should be no more than 150 words, concise, and complete in itself without reference to the body of the paper. Include purpose, methodology, results, and conclusions where applicable. Care should be taken to include all keywords suitable for indexing the article by computer analysis.

6. Text: Be sure that all references are cited in numerical order in the text and that all tables and figures are cited in the text, numbered according to the order in which they appear. Data in tables and figures should be summarized, not duplicated, in the text. All data in the text should be checked against the corresponding data in the tables and figures for agreement.

7. Tables: Tables should be typed on separate sheets of paper at the end of the manuscript, should be numbered consecutively, and should have informative titles. All tables should be cited in the text in numerical order.

8. Figures: All figures should be professionally drawn in black ink. Glossy, high-contrast black and white photographs are preferred. All figures should be cited in the text. As a general rule, most figures for reproduction should be at least 8″ by 10″ in size. Make sure that letters and numbers are clearly legible.

9. Figure legends: Figure legends, together with informative titles, should be typed double-spaced on a separate sheet of paper. Arabic numerals should be used.

10. References: References to published material should be identified in the text by arabic numerals in square brackets. References should be typed double-spaced at the end of the paper in numerical order. Authors are responsible for accuracy and completeness of references. Examples of the correct format are as follows:

Journal reference

1. Wilcox, Benton H. "Easy Access to U.S. Documents," Wisconsin Library Bulletin, 63 (March 1967), 87.

Book reference

2. Sinderman, Carl J. Winning the Game that Scientists Play. New York: Plenum, 1982.
